

Full house for a hair raising night at the bingo

Art teacher Mrs Murphy celebrated losing at the bingo last weekend, as she shed more than 40cm of hair for charity.

As part of a special Comedy Bingo event, held at the College on January 26, Miss Murphy let fellow Art teacher, Mrs Campbell, loose on her locks.

The impromptu haircut had the desired effect, being as it has raised more than £500 for Music teacher, Isabel Morison's 'letsdothisforisabel' campaign.

The College's ongoing charity drive is helping to try and raise the funds for potentially lifesaving treatment in the US.

Miss Murphy said: "It was a bit of a last minute decision to have it cut on the night but it was well worth it to boost the fund.

Growing

"I've been growing it for a long time, so it was a bit nerve wracking but Mrs Campbell did a quick job and chopped my pony tail off in one go.

"I'm following Isabel's example and donating my hair to The Little Princess Trust, who make wigs for children who have had cancer treatment and lost their hair so, hopefully, this will make a difference to others too."

As well as Miss Murphy's hair raising gesture, there was also a night of comedy and bingo.

The event was well supported by people from the wider College community including many from our partner primary schools, as well as staff, parents, friends and family of Sacred Heart.

The entertainment was provided by local comedian, Brendan Riley, who said it was one of the 'biggest and most enjoyable' Comedy Bingos he had done since he started running these events two years ago.

Year 13 enjoy museum trip

Year 13 students enjoyed a trip to Liverpool Museum recently as part of their National Open College Network (NOCN) studies.

The students took a keen interest in learning about the history of the city, not least its many sporting achievements.

Evie Seddon-Cowell (13D) said: I felt so proud of Liverpool as I went around the museum. It is full of such great stories of people from my city who made a great contribution to the world."

These thoughts were echoed by Tom Mason (13S), who added; "I loved the museum, especially the sporting history of the city. Obviously, I knew about Everton and Liverpool but to see all their achievements celebrated together was special.

"Also, the Grand National is a world famous race and part of my childhood city."

Local businesses, The Pioneer, Ian James Barbers, Artelier Hair and Florence & Fox also supported the event by providing some of the great bingo prizes.

Ex-pupil, Chris Cain, also donated a football signed by players from Liverpool Football Club that raised £250 in an auction held on the evening.

Miss Murphy added: "We have had fantastic feedback from those who came to the event about what a fun night it was.

"We raised more than £2,600 on the night with donations still coming in.

"Thanks to everyone who has supported it in any way and especially Miss Clarke, Miss Campbell and Ms Yoxall for their organisation of the event and Mr Foy, Mr O'Malley, Mrs Bennett and everyone else who helped on the night."

Event

The Comedy Bingo event is the latest in a series of fundraisers organised by College staff.

These have included a 5K fun run, charity football match, Christmas Fayre and a spectacular Christmas Carol Concert at Liverpool's Metropolitan Cathedral (pictured, right).

Further events are planned, including a night's entertainment in March from local singer Jak Dexter. Watch out for further details on this event nearer to the time.
