Gold medal has Year 7 Daisy jumping for joy

Congratulations to Daisy Hesketh, who has clinched gold at a national trampolining competition.

The bouncy Year 7 student took home top honours after competing in the championships at Birmingham Arena

In order to qualify, Daisy (7A) had to successfully navigate her way through the regional heats, which she duly managed to do.

Then it was on to Birmingham and the national championships, where Daisy would be up against 24 other girls.

Daisy saw off the competition to clinch a well-deserved gold medal and leave her proud father, Matt, beaming. He said: "We are all incredibly proud of Daisy, as she has only been trampolining for two years. Daisy has been trampolining for Springers at Crosby Leisure Centre and loves competing."

All in all they're just talented kids on the wall

Talented students at Lower Site have seen their names go up in lights, well, up on the wall.

The Wall of Fame showcases the considerable range of talents and achievements our Year 7 & 8 students have demonstrated during their short time at Sacred Heart.

Mrs Holmes said: "A number of our students have gained trophies medals and certificates in a variety of activities, ranging in everything from, ballroom dancing, Taekwondo, gymnastics, dressage, jujitsu, triathlon, drama, football, netball, basketball, dodgeball, fundraising runs, cross country, morris dancing, judo, singing, diving and swimming.

"The Wall of Fame recognises what a very talented bunch we have here and that we are very proud of them."

T'mya turns heads on TV talent show The Voice

Congratulations to T'mya Fyffe who wowed the judges on TV talent show The Voice Kids and won a place on will.i.am's team.

Talented T'mya (7H), who also designs her own dresses, took to the stage to perform a cover of the Whitney Houston song, I Will Always Love You.

However, judges were left open-mouthed when T'mya put an operatic twist on the song. Especially keen with the performance was will.i.am, who 'turned' with T'mya just one sentence into the song.

At the end of T'mya's performance, it seemed no one wanted to challenge the Black Eyed Peas frontman for the singer and she now sits on Team Will.

The coach said of her song: "I turned around because I liked how you flipped a Dolly Parton and Whitney song. Finding something and flipping it. It's awesome."

News in brief

Lower Site Open Evening takes place from 6pm tonight.

The summer term finishes at midday on Friday. Students return on Tuesday, September 3. Have a great summer.
